MARISA UGARTE: THE SAN DIEGO CHICANO FEDERATION'S COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

HON. BOB FILNER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker: Passionate. Visionary. Bold. These are a few of the words used to describe Marisa Ugarte in a recent column in the San Diego Union-Tribune. As the executive director of the Bilateral Safety Corridor Coalition (BSCC), Marisa epitomizes all of these and more in her fervent quest to save children from pimps who pander them to pedophiles on both sides of the US-Mexico border.

With more than 20 years of experience advocating for exploited men, women, children and at-risk youth, Marisa has made her vision a global crusade over the past several years. While the BSCC is best known for its fight against sex trafficking, Marisa reports there are other issues that need attention drawn to them. They include the fate of sweatshop workers and young women working as maids and housekeepers, who Marisa says serve as indentured servants, working off the enormous debts made to get them into this country.

With a mission of 'preserving the dignity and well-being of commercially and sexually exploited women and children through prevention, intervention and education,' Marisa's organization collaborates with about 80 government and nongovernmental agencies in Mexico and the United States that strive to reduce slavery and human trafficking. They include the U.S. Justice Department, the U.S. Border Patrol Victims Unit, the University of San Diego, Departamento de Integración Familiar (DIF), and more.

The BSCC's vision is 'to live in a world where there is zero tolerance for exploitation and where women and children's lives are protected and held in high esteem.' Recently, the organization received a grant from the State Department to work on both sides of the border.

Marisa grew up in Mexico City and New York City. For the past three years she has created social service programs in Tijuana, Mexico. Marisa is the founder of the Binational Crisis Line in Tijuana, as well as the Domestic Violence Crisis Center for Sistema Nacional para el Desarrollo Integral de la Familia (DIF), Tijuana. It was there that she became interested in advocating for those who have become victims to sex trafficking. (Marisa continues to be an advisor to DIF and to the Civil Protection and Disaster Crisis Prevention Program in Mexico.)

In the US, Marisa convenes annual anti-trafficking conferences in San Diego, and is an active speaker at similar conferences nationwide and internationally on human trafficking and the commercial sexual exploitation of women and children. Her public speaking engagements have included: Artesana, (Successful Coalition Building), Texas; the Millennium Conference, and the International Institute (Restructuring the Justice System in Mexico). She was a presenter at the follow-up conference at the Yokohama Children's Rights Conference (for Latin America and Costa Rica) and at conferences in Mexico, San Salvador and Costa Rica.

Marisa also taught at the University of California, San Diego; the University of San Diego, and the University of Xochicalco, Mexico.

Congratulations, Marisa, on this Award for Community Service.

IN HONOR AND REMEMBRANCE OF SIMON WIESENTHAL

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in honor and remembrance of Simon Wiesenthal, beloved husband and father, author, Holocaust survivor, Jewish activist, and tireless pursuer of justice who passed away yesterday at the age of 96.

Mr. Wiesenthal was born and raised in Buczaz in what is now known as the Ukraine. There he pursued a career in architectural engineering until he was taken to a forced labor camp in 1941. For the next four years Mr. Wiesenthal was transferred between twelve concentration camps until he arrived at Mauthausen concentration camp in northern Austria. He remained in Mauthausen until May 5, 1945 when the camp was liberated by the American army.

In 1947 Mr. Wiesenthal opened the Jewish Historical Documentation Center for the purpose of collecting evidence for trials against Nazi war criminals. Mr. Wiesenthal worked diligently for the rest of his life in the pursuit of any and all Nazis responsible for Holocaust atrocities. Mr. Wiesenthal is credited with aiding in the capture of over 1,100 Nazi war criminals. Most notable amongst these arrests are Adolf Eichmann, an architect and implementer of Hitler's "Final Solution," and Franz Stangl, the commandant at Treblinka where an estimated 800,000 Jews died.

Mr. Wiesenthal received many honors including: decorations from the Austrian and French resistance movements, the Austrian Cross of Honor of the Sciences and Arts, the Dutch Freedom Medal, honorary knighthood from the United Kingdom, the United Nations League for the Help of Refugees Award, the Luxembourg Freedom Medal, the French Legion of Honor, and the U.S. Congressional Gold Medal.

Mr. Speaker and Colleagues, please join me in honor and remembrance of Simon Wiesenthal, whose dedication to the pursuit of justice has ensured that the atrocities of the Holocaust will never be forgotten. I extend my deepest condolences to the family of Simon Wiesenthal, members and employees of the Simon Wiesenthal Center, and the community of Holocaust survivors. Mr. Wiesenthal will surely be remembered in history for his tireless dedication to justice and his commitment to fighting prejudice and honoring those who lost their lives to the horrors of the Holocaust.

TRIBUTE TO JOHN MARSHALL ON THE OCCASION OF THE 250TH AN- NIVERSARY OF HIS BIRTH

HON. ERIC CANTOR

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. CANTOR. Mr. Speaker, this Saturday, September 24th, marks the 250th anniversary of Chief Justice John Marshall's birth. The principal founder of American constitutional law and one of Virginia's finest sons, Marshall's 34 years of leadership brought the United States Supreme Court great prominence.

His education, experiences, and service to the Commonwealth of Virginia enabled him to serve this country as Supreme Court Justice. Chief Justice Marshall presided over numerous landmark cases and authored many of the Supreme Court's most influential opinions.

Under his guidance, the Supreme Court from 1801 to 1835 expanded the definition of commerce, solidified the Supreme Court's dominance over the State court system, and defended the Federal Government's implied power.

These contributions and many others came after the first, and arguably most important, opinion he penned—judicial review. Shortly after his ascension to the bench, Chief Justice John Marshall affirmed the ability of the Supreme Court as the only body to decide the constitutionality of Federal or State law under the United States Constitution.

It is fitting that Marshall's birthday occurs at the same time as the United States Senate considers John Roberts' nomination to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Like Marshall, Roberts would become chief justice at a relatively young age.

It is reported that Roberts would touch the statue of former Chief Justice Marshall that sits at the Supreme Court for luck before each case he argued. It is clear that John Marshall established an enduring legacy.

EXPRESSING DISAPPOINTMENT
ABOUT THE VOTE ON CONYERS AMENDMENT TO CHILDREN'S SAFETY ACT

HON. VIRGINIA FOXX

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, I want to express my disappointment about a vote that was taken in this House last week.

The House took up very important, long overdue legislation to protect America's children and keep despicable predators off our streets.

However, an abominable amendment was offered by a Democrat that had no business being a part of the Children's Safety Act.

The noble and monumental Children's Safety Act was tainted by the Conyers amendment that seeks to punish people for their thoughts, specifically if they believe homosexuality is wrong.

While considering a great Republican bill that will crack down on pedophiles, rapists and murderers, the self-motivated Democrats instead took the opportunity to further their out of touch agenda.

I voted against the Conyers amendment and I am truly saddened that it passed.

The Children's Safety Act is so important and will do so much good in our country that I still voted for final passage despite the inclusion of this awful, unrelated amendment.

The opportunity to vote to protect American children from monstrous criminals could not be declined simply because there was a blemish on otherwise outstanding legislation.

IN CELEBRATION OF THE 50TH AN-NIVERSARY OF MCGUCKIN'S
HARDWARE

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge the 50th Anniversary of McGuckin's Hardware Store in Boulder, Colorado. McGuckin's is a landmark in Boulder and has long had a very special reputation for stocking hard-to-find items.

McGuckin's was opened in 1955 by Bill McGuckin, a rugged outdoorsman and avid fisherman. The store originally consisted of only four employees and four departments with a business ethic based on Bill McGuckin's belief in personalized service, selection, and first-hand experience. In 1960, Dave Hight joined his father-in-law, Bill, as a partner, and together they committed themselves to fostering McGuckin's well-deserved reputation as "the Greatest Hardware Store in the World."

After Mr. McGuckin's passing in 1966, Mr. Hight continued the excellent service and selection offered to customers. His company continued to grow over the next 50 years, and today, this independently-owned business has prospered to employ 315 individuals in all its operations. In addition to its 60,000+ square foot sales floor with over 200,000 items for sale, there is a Design Center and a Distribution Center nearby to meet every customer's need. You name it, they have it. When there's a problem with something they sell, they fix it. In the unlikely event they don't have that particular something for which you were looking, their knowledgeable, experienced staff knows where to order it and does so with a friendly manner and without a fuss.

Not surprisingly, McGuckin's has developed a loyal and devoted clientele. Boulder's Daily Camera readers have voted it "Best Hardware Store," "Best Locally-Owned Store" and "Best Customer Service." "Best Customer Service" is an understatement; McGuckin's employees are beyond comparison. They wear green and are found in almost every aisle. You can still find Dave Hight in the middle aisle. They give plain, old-fashioned, perfect service with no hovering or hard-sell. No matter which department they work in, they all know where everything in the store is located.

McGuckin's quality service doesn't stop with humans either; this store welcomes pets on-leash too. As dog-lovers on my staff will tell you, most of Boulder's best-behaved dogs and puppies began refining their social skills by shopping in McGuckin's pet supply department. Employees dressed in green will greet customers and their pets and will often ask permission to give the dog a treat. While I have never tried one, I am reliably informed by pet owners that if you give permission, the most "delectable tidbits" come out of those green smock pockets. McGuckin's is, therefore, not only a big hit with people working on their week-end home improvement projects, it is also popular with Boulder's canine population.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in acknowledging David Hight and his employees for their commitment to uniquely serving their customers. If you're ever visiting Boulder, I hope you'll have the chance to go to McGuckin's. You won't be sorry and you won't find any store like it in this day and age. I congratulate David Hight and all the employees and their families on this 50th Anniversary and wish them good health and happiness in McGuckin's future.

IN RECOGNITION OF BILL AND MARGURITE ADDISON

HON. C.A. DUTCH RUPPERSBERGER

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. RUPPERSBERGER. Mr. Speaker, William and Margurite Addison are a wonderful couple who have provided a permanent home for five children who were part of the State foster care system. Although the Addisons had thought their childrearing years were finished when their own biological children had become young adults (Ms. Addison has four biological children, ranging in age from 34 to 41, and Mr. Addison has two birth children, ages 29 and 35), they opened their home to one of Mr. Addison's nephews, Ralph, (now age 17) in 1992. The Addisons became approved foster parents for Ralph in 1994 and subsequently decided to open their home to non-relative foster children when they realized how many children were in desperate need of out-of-home care.

In 1998, the Addisons were approved as an adoptive resource for Ralph and their adoption was subsequently finalized that year. However, that was only the first of what ultimately became five adoptions. In 1999, Malik (now age 9) was adopted, Kevin (now age 3), was adopted in 2000, Warren (now age 6) was adopted in 2003, and Bryleigh (now age 3) was adopted in 2004. Except for Ralph, each of these children had come to the Addison home via the foster care system as drug-exposed infants (none of them are related). In addition, Warren suffers from sickle-cell anemia, as well as emotional/behavioral difficulties. Ralph has received special education services in school and it is likely Warren will also need a special school setting.
